Jürgen Matthes CELEBRATES

IN EASTBOURNE

25 Years!

THE Jürgen Matthes Student Organisation has been bringing students to Eastbourne since 1982 and is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year.

Over the last 25 years, Jürgen Matthes has built up an excellent reputation in Eastbourne as a well organised and caring organisation. Jürgen's students are mainly from Germany and are extremely well looked after. Jürgen and his wife Meike have more than 100 leaders looking after his students every year.

During their two to three week stays in Eastbourne, JM students are kept very busy. In the morning they attend four English lessons. Jürgen employs local teachers to run all his holiday language courses. After their lessons the students join a fully supervised and all inclusive afternoon programme of sports and leisure activities.

On weekends the student leaders take everybody to London, Brighton and Hastings. For good times in the evening, Jürgen lays on three to four discos each week. His students are lucky, they don't have to pay for entrance and when the parties are over free evening buses are supplied by JM to take everybody home to their host families.

Jürgen is still the only one in Eastbourne offering this service to students. The local host families love it as it helps students to come home on time and nobody has to stay up and worry about them coming home late at night.

Jürgen and his Eastbourne office work with more than 500 host families closely all year round. Looking at what Jürgen does for his students, it is not surprising that in 25 years 15,000 JM students have returned with Jürgen for a second or third trip to Eastbourne.
