30th Anniversary

THE Jürgen Matthes Student Organisation has been bringing students to Eastbourne since 1982 and is celebrating its 30th Anniversary this year. Over the last 30 years, Jürgen Matthes has built up an excellent reputation in Eastbourne as a well organised and caring organisation. Jürgen's students are mainly from Germany and are extremely well looked after. Jürgen and his wife Meike have more than 100 leaders looking after his students every year. During their two to three week stays in Eastbourne, JM students are kept very busy. In the morning they attend four English lessons. Jürgen employs local teachers to run all of his English language courses. After their lessons students enjoy a fully supervised and all-inclusive afternoon programme of sports and leisure activities. On weekends the student leaders take everybody to London, Brighton and Hastings. For a good time in the evenings Jürgen lays on three to four discos each week. His student are lucky, they don't have to pay for entrance, when the parties are over, free evening busses are supplied by JM to take everybody home to their host families. Jürgen is still the only one in Eastbourne to offer this service to students. The local host families love it as it helps students to get home on time and nobody has to wait up and worry about when their students are coming home.

Jürgen and his Eastbourne Office work with more than 500 host families all year round. Looking at what Jürgen does for his students, it is not surprising that in 30 years he has welcomed over 125,000 students to Eastbourne with 20,000 returning for a second, third or fourth trip to Eastbourne.
